Our platform—we believe in:

Inclusion We love Oakland Mills’ diversity, and we want it to always be a place where all sorts of people can find a place to live and a great education for their kids. When we discuss the Village’s future, we need to do it together—renters, homeowners and condominium owners.

Promotion We need to share our story in the Washington/Baltimore area, to attract young families who will take good care of our stock of 1970’s homes. They’ll help maintain a market for goods and services in the Village Center.

Connection A new bridge across Route 29 will connect us to all the good things going on in the Town Center, and let all the new people there reach our Village Center easily and safely.

Collaboration We will build and strengthen positive relationships with all those who can help us achieve this vision. That includes agencies and elected officials on the local, state and federal levels, Columbia Association leadership and staff, Oakland Mills village staff, and leaders in
